Fill in the boxes below and mark the standardized score on the scale. Then add and subtract the numbers given for that region. Mark the interval with a broad horizontal line. This gives the 90 per cent confidence interval (you can be 90 per cent certain that the pupil's true score is in this band). Full details are given in the Manual.

These questions are all about shapes and patterns.

There are two basic types of question.

In the first type, you are given two figures inside a large oval. You have to decide how they are alike and then find which of the six figures below them also belongs inside the oval.

Look at Example 1.

The answer letter has been circled for you.

All the other questions have figures arranged in a pattern. In each question, one piece is missing. Its place is shown by a question mark. You have to decide which of the six figures is the missing one and circle its letter.

Look at Examples 2 and 3 below.
